

A beacon of hope

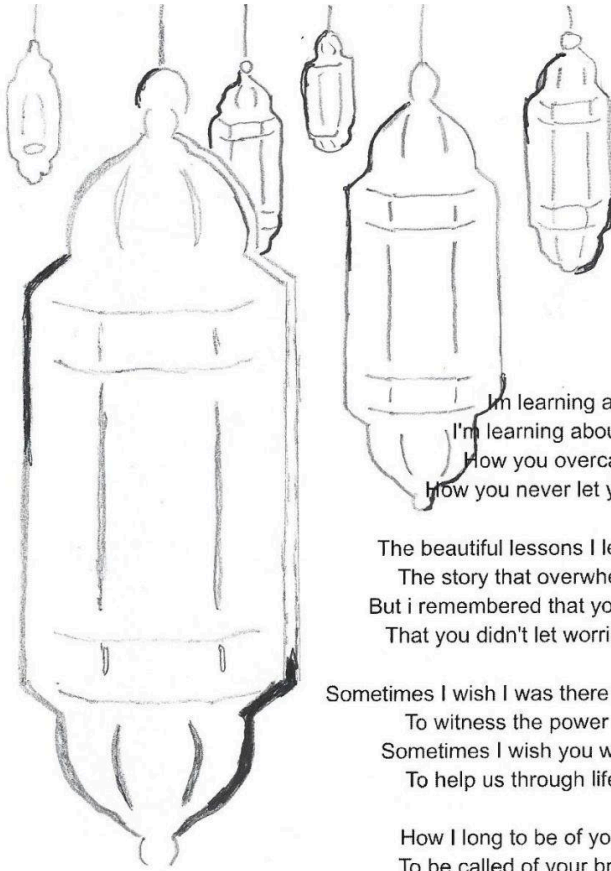

Im learning about you
I'm learning about your virtue
How you overcame turmoil
How you never let yourself embroil

The beautiful lessons I learnt from your story
The story that overwhelmed me of worry
But i remembered that you were of the chosen
That you didn't let worries leave you frozen

Sometimes I wish I was there to witness your existence
To witness the power of your resilience
Sometimes I wish you were here to lead us,
To help us through life's turbulent rides

How I long to be of your companionship
To be called of your brotherhood kinship
To walk beside you, side by side
In the gardens where rivers flow, so grand

To learn from your wisdom, pure and bright
Guided by your teaching, leading to the right path
Oh muhammed, Mercy to the mankind
Your character luminates, Darkness fleeing behind

I'm learning about you
 I'm learning about your virtue
 How you overcame turmoil
 How you never let yourself ~~emorb~~

The beautiful lessons I learnt from your story
